Mechanical provided value for Crystal Lake, Illinois with the completion of Terra Cotta Wastewater Treatment Plant (WWTP). The purpose of the project was to provide a new state of the art wastewater treatment facility for the owner to allow for future residential development in the community.

We provided underground and above ground process piping, process equipment installation, and building plumbing for the new structures and buildings.

Terra Cotta WWTP was suspended at approximately 30% completion due to financial considerations. Approximately sixteen months later it was restarted and completed on an aggressive schedule. The WWTP was built on a design/build basis, challenging our team to stay focused and on track.
